

Have you ever considered becoming a compliance officer? Now it is possible.

Register for Moonstone's Compliance Officer Certificate - Equip yourself with expert skills and practical experience

Compliance Officers generally provide compliance services to the management of a company, to assist them in discharging their responsibilities in complying with various regulatory as well as legislative requirements.

The Moonstone Business School of Excellence (MBSE) Occupational Certificate: Compliance Officer (NQF level 6) qualification equips students with these expert skills as well as practical experience. These skills and experience will give students confidence in their own working abilities, and advance their career.

Qualified students will be able to conduct Enterprise-wide Risk Management, apply compliance principles, commit to the compliance practices, design and implement various compliance plans and strategies, conduct compliance monitoring, and interact with various industry role-players.

The Moonstone qualification is not just aimed at preparing a student for compliance within the financial sector, but also compliance departments from other sectors.

This SAQA registered part time 2 year qualification is accredited under the Quality Council for Trades & Occupations (QCTO) as an NQF level 6 course. MBSE is an accredited Skills Development Provider (SDP) for the QCTO and the Council For Higher Education. MBSE is ideally placed to offer this CISA¹ and FSCA approved certification.

The qualification is definitely designed for forward-thinking compliance professionals across a variety of industries.

¹CISA is the Assessment Quality Partner (AQP) for this occupational qualification which leads to the CISA board exam for the CPrac (SA) – Compliance Practitioner and the advanced CProf (SA) – Compliance Professional.

Registration for the February intake is now open.
