

Continuous Professional Development

Annual Subscription Package

The Fit and Proper Determination requires that certain individuals obtain a specified number of Continuous Professional Development (CPD) hours within an annual 12-month cycle between 1 June and 31 May of a specific year.

To acquire these hours, FSPs, Key Individuals and Financial Advisers need to attend training, seminars, online webinars and conferences that are accredited by a professional body who also allocates an hourly value or a part thereof to the activity.

Moonstone encourages and supports a culture of ongoing learning and professional development by providing various opportunities for the continuous development. Through our accredited CPD courses individuals can receive CPD hours in the comfort of their own home and at their own time.

To make it even easier to achieve annual CPD hours, Moonstone is now offering an annual subscription with access to more than 100 online CPD courses, covering various categories for the 2020/2021 CPD cycle.

What are the benefits of the annual subscription?

- Simple, efficient CPD attainment process
- Engaging, relevant and practical content via an optimised e-learning environment
- Study at your own pace, whenever, wherever
- Immediate certification as well as instant access to CPD records and reports for reporting purposes
- Affordable once-off payment

The importance of continuous professional development should not be underestimated. It is part of the process of ensuring that you act in a proudly professional manner.

Non-compliance with any Fit and Proper competence requirement will result in regulatory action being taken against the FSP, key individual and/or representative. This applies to non-compliance with the CPD requirements as well.

Don't hesitate, subscribe to one of the Moonstone's CPD packages today. From only R1299 per annum Moonstone now offers the answer to all your CPD requirements.
